WELCOME

Welcome to your kitchen

Eating enough protein is the hardest part of most training plans — not because it's complicated, but because the food gets boring fast. This book fixes that. Every recipe is built around a serious protein hit, uses ingredients you can find in any supermarket, and takes less time than scrolling for a takeaway.

Nothing here is extreme. No cutting out food groups, no five-hour prep, no ingredients you'll use once and bin. Just honest, high-protein cooking you'll come back to week after week.

— HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

Macros on every recipe

Calories, protein, carbs and fat are listed per serving, with protein highlighted in gold.

Metric & imperial

Grams and millilitres first, with cups and ounces in brackets so nobody's left guessing.

Prep, storage & swaps

Each page ends with a meal-prep tip, how long it keeps, and easy ingredient swaps.

Macros are a guide

Figures are estimates — they'll shift with your exact brands and portions. Track your own if you're precise.

38g

PROTEIN

This gold badge appears on every recipe. It's your at-a-glance protein number — the fastest way to build a day that hits your target.

THE BASICS

Protein & macros 101

You don't need to weigh every gram to eat well — but understanding the basics makes every recipe in this book work harder for you. Here's the short version.

Why protein matters

Protein repairs and builds muscle after training, keeps you full for longer, and has the highest "thermic effect" of any macro — your body burns more digesting it. Get it right and everything else gets easier.

How much do you need?

A common evidence-based range for active people is 1.6–2.2g per kg of bodyweight per day. For an 80kg lifter that's roughly 130–175g. Spread it across 3–4 meals for best results.

— THE THREE MACROS

PROTEIN · 4 kcal/g

Meat, fish, eggs, dairy, whey, tofu, beans. The priority macro — build every meal around it first.

CARBS · 4 kcal/g

Rice, oats, potatoes, fruit, bread. Your main training fuel — don't fear them, time them around workouts.

FAT · 9 kcal/g

Oils, nuts, avocado, dairy. Essential for hormones — calorie-dense, so keep an eye on portions.

BUILD A HIGH-PROTEIN PLATE

Palm

of protein — chicken, fish, lean beef or a scoop of whey.

Fist

of smart carbs — rice, oats or potatoes.

Thumb

of fats — oil, nut butter or cheese.

Handful

of veg — volume, fibre and micronutrients.

Meal-prep & batch cooking

Consistency beats perfection. Two hours on a Sunday means real food is ready all week — and you never end up staring into an empty fridge deciding whether to bother.

— THE SUNDAY RESET

Pick & shop

Choose 3–4 recipes and shop once using the list on page 40.

Cook proteins

Batch chicken, mince and rice while veg roasts. Cook once, eat all week.

Portion out

Divide into containers by macro target. Label with the date.

Chill & freeze

Three days in the fridge, the rest in the freezer for later.

Storage rules of thumb

Cooked chicken & beef 3–4 days · 3 months frozen

Cooked rice & grains 3 days · cool fast

Overnight oats / yogurt 4 days

Soups, chilli, curries 4 days · 3 months frozen

Reheat like a pro

- Add a splash of water to rice and pasta before microwaving to bring it back.
- Defrost overnight in the fridge, not on the counter.
- Reheat until piping hot throughout, and only reheat once.
- Keep sauces and dressings separate until serving to avoid soggy prep.

CHAPTER 01

Breakfast

Eight high-protein ways to start the day — from five-minute overnight oats to a hand-held burrito you can eat on the move.

— INGREDIENTS

- 50g rolled oats (½ cup)
- 30g vanilla whey (1 scoop)
- 150g 0% Greek yogurt (⅔ cup)
- 200ml milk (¾ cup)
- 1 tbsp chia seeds
- 1 tsp honey
- 80g mixed berries (½ cup)

— METHOD

- 1 In a jar, stir together the oats, whey, chia and a pinch of salt.
- 2 Add the yogurt, milk and honey. Stir well until there are no dry pockets left.
- 3 Seal and refrigerate overnight, or at least four hours.
- 4 Top with berries in the morning, adding a splash more milk if you like it looser.

MEAL PREP TIP

Make four jars at once — they'll see you through half the week.

STORAGE

Keeps 4 days chilled. Add fresh fruit just before eating.

SWAPS

Casein for a thicker set · oat milk to go dairy-free.

Protein Pancakes

Fluffy, golden stacks powered by oats and whey — the weekend classic, rebuilt to fuel training without the mid-morning sugar crash.

— INGREDIENTS

- 60g rolled oats ($\frac{2}{3}$ cup)
- 30g vanilla whey (1 scoop)
- 120ml egg whites ($\frac{1}{2}$ cup)
- 1 ripe banana (100g)
- 120ml milk ($\frac{1}{2}$ cup)
- 1 tsp baking powder
- Pinch of fine salt
- Low-cal oil spray

— METHOD

- 1 Blitz the oats to a coarse flour. Add whey, banana, egg whites, milk, baking powder and salt, then blend smooth. Rest 2 minutes.
- 2 Heat a non-stick pan over medium and mist with oil. Ladle in 3–4 small pancakes.
- 3 Cook 1–2 minutes until bubbles break the surface, then flip and cook 1 minute more.
- 4 Stack, top with Greek yogurt and berries, and serve straight away.

MEAL PREP TIP

Batch the dry mix into jars for up to 6 servings — add the wet each morning.

STORAGE

Keeps 3 days chilled or 1 month frozen. Reheat in a toaster.

SWAPS

Casein for a thicker batter · oat milk to go dairy-free · add blueberries.

Greek Yogurt Power Bowl

Five minutes, one bowl, forty grams of protein. The lazy morning that still lands squarely on your target.

- 30g vanilla whey (1 scoop)
- 30g granola (¼ cup)
- 1 tbsp peanut butter
- 80g mixed berries (½ cup)
- 1 tsp honey
- Pinch of cinnamon

METHOD

- 1 Stir the whey into the yogurt with a splash of milk until smooth and moussey.
- 2 Spoon into a bowl and smooth the top level.
- 3 Scatter over the granola and berries, then drizzle with peanut butter and honey.
- 4 Dust with cinnamon and eat straight away.

MEAL PREP TIP

Pre-portion granola and toppings into pots for a 60-second assembly.

STORAGE

Best fresh; the yogurt base keeps 2 days without toppings.

SWAPS

Frozen berries · almond butter · dairy-free yogurt + vegan protein.

Breakfast Burrito

A proper hand-held breakfast that travels well — high protein, low faff, and genuinely filling until lunch.

- 60g reduced-fat cheese ($\frac{1}{2}$ cup)
- 1 handful spinach
- 2 tbsp salsa
- Low-cal oil spray

— METHOD

- 1 Whisk the eggs and whites with a pinch of salt. Scramble softly in a sprayed pan over medium heat.
- 2 Warm the beans and wilt the spinach through the eggs right at the end.
- 3 Lay out the tortillas and pile on the egg, cheese and salsa.
- 4 Fold in the sides, roll tight, and toast seam-side down for 1 minute.

MEAL PREP TIP

Wrap in foil and freeze — reheat from frozen in the microwave for 2–3 minutes.

STORAGE

3 days chilled or 1 month frozen, tightly wrapped.

- 150g 0% Greek yogurt ($\frac{2}{3}$ cup)
- 60ml milk ($\frac{1}{4}$ cup)
- Granola & seeds, to top

— METHOD

- 1 Blend the frozen banana, berries, whey, yogurt and just enough milk to get it moving.
- 2 Keep it thick — spoonable, not pourable. Add milk a splash at a time.
- 3 Pour into a chilled bowl and level the top.
- 4 Top with granola, seeds and a few extra berries.

MEAL PREP TIP

Freeze sliced banana in bags so you always have some ready to blend.

STORAGE

Best fresh; freeze any leftovers in ice-lolly moulds.

SWAPS

- 80g sweetcorn ($\frac{1}{2}$ cup)
- 2 tbsp salsa
- 30g reduced-fat cheese ($\frac{1}{4}$ cup)
- Lime, cumin & paprika

— METHOD

- 1 Cook the rice to packet instructions and set aside.
- 2 Season the chicken with cumin, paprika and salt, then pan-fry 5–6 minutes each side until cooked through. Rest, then slice.
- 3 Warm the beans and sweetcorn in the same pan for 2 minutes.
- 4 Build bowls with rice, chicken, beans, corn, pepper, salsa and cheese. Finish with a squeeze of lime.

MEAL PREP TIP

— INGREDIENTS

- 150g self-raising flour (1¼ cups)
- 150g Greek yogurt (⅔ cup)
- 150g cooked chicken
- 4 tbsp passata
- 80g reduced-fat mozzarella (¾ cup)
- 1 tsp dried oregano
- Handful of rocket
- Salt & pepper

— METHOD

- 1 Mix the flour and yogurt into a dough, then knead briefly and roll out on a lined tray.
- 2 Spread with passata, scatter over the chicken, mozzarella and oregano.
- 3 Bake at 220°C fan for 12–15 minutes until the base is crisp and cheese is bubbling.
- 4 Top with rocket, season and slice.

MEAL PREP TIP

The 2-ingredient yogurt dough is the secret — no proving, no yeast.

STORAGE

2 days chilled; reheat in a hot oven to re-crisp the base.

SWAPS

Wholemeal flour · any lean topping · dairy-free cheese and yogurt.

Steak & Potatoes

The Sunday-night reset. A good piece of steak, crispy potatoes and a pile of greens — simple and satisfying.

— INGREDIENTS

- 2 lean sirloin steaks (320g)
- 500g baby potatoes, halved
- 1 head tenderstem broccoli
- 2 cloves garlic, crushed
- 1 tbsp olive oil
- 1 tsp rosemary
- Salt & pepper

— METHOD

- 1 Boil the potatoes for 8 minutes, then roast at 200°C fan with oil, garlic and rosemary for 20 minutes until crisp.
- 2 Steam or griddle the broccoli until just tender.
- 3 Season the steaks generously and sear 2–3 minutes each side for medium. Rest 5 minutes.
- 4 Slice the steak and serve with the potatoes and greens.

MEAL PREP TIP

Rest the steak as long as you cooked it — it keeps every drop of juice in.

STORAGE

Best fresh; potatoes reheat well in a hot oven for 3 days.

SWAPS

Lean pork or chicken · sweet potato · asparagus for broccoli.

CHAPTER 04

Snacks

Five sweet fixes that actually work for your goals — cookie dough, brownies and a two-minute mug cake.

— INGREDIENTS

- 1 tin chickpeas (240g, drained)
- 30g vanilla whey (1 scoop)
- 2 tbsp peanut butter
- 2 tbsp maple syrup
- 1 tsp vanilla extract
- 30g dark chocolate chips
- Pinch of salt

— METHOD

- 1 Blend the chickpeas, whey, peanut butter, maple and vanilla until completely smooth.
- 2 Add a splash of milk if it's too thick to blend.
- 3 Stir through the chocolate chips and a pinch of salt.
- 4 Chill for 20 minutes and eat with a spoon, or spread on rice cakes.

MEAL PREP TIP

Blend the base really well — you want zero chickpea texture left.

STORAGE

4 days chilled in an airtight tub.

SWAPS

Cannellini beans · almond butter
· sugar-free chocolate chips.

Protein Brownies

Fudgy, rich and secretly high in protein. Proof that a treat and your goals can share a plate.

— INGREDIENTS

- 2 ripe bananas
- 60g chocolate whey (2 scoops)
- 40g cocoa powder ($\frac{1}{3}$ cup)
- 2 large eggs
- 3 tbsp maple syrup
- 50g oat flour ($\frac{1}{2}$ cup)
- 30g dark chocolate, chopped
- 1 tsp baking powder

— METHOD

- 1 Heat the oven to 180°C fan and line a small square tin.
- 2 Mash the bananas, then whisk in the eggs and maple.
- 3 Fold in the whey, cocoa, oat flour and baking powder until just combined.
- 4 Pour in, scatter with chopped chocolate and bake 18–20 minutes. Cool before cutting into 9.

MEAL PREP TIP

Pull them out while still slightly fudgy in the middle — they set as they cool.

STORAGE

4 days chilled or 2 months frozen.

SWAPS

Any flavour whey · ground almonds for oat flour · agave for maple.

Greek Yogurt Bowl

The no-recipe recipe. Thirty seconds to assemble, endlessly adaptable, and quietly one of the best snacks going.

— INGREDIENTS

- 200g 0% Greek yogurt ($\frac{3}{4}$ cup)
- 15g whey ($\frac{1}{2}$ scoop, optional)
- 1 tbsp honey
- 30g granola ($\frac{1}{4}$ cup)
- 60g berries ($\frac{1}{3}$ cup)
- 1 tsp mixed seeds
- Pinch of cinnamon

— METHOD

- 1 Stir the whey (if using) into the yogurt until smooth.
- 2 Spoon into a bowl and level the surface.
- 3 Top with granola, berries and seeds.
- 4 Drizzle with honey and dust with cinnamon.

MEAL PREP TIP

Stir in a little whey to push the protein past 30g without changing the taste.

STORAGE

Assemble fresh; add crunchy toppings just before eating.

SWAPS

Any fruit · dairy-free yogurt · nut butter instead of granola.

Chocolate Protein Bark

A make-ahead freezer snack that tastes like a treat. Snap off a piece whenever a craving hits.

- 30g chocolate whey (1 scoop)
- 1 tbsp maple syrup
- 30g dark chocolate, melted
- 30g mixed berries
- 1 tbsp chopped nuts
- Pinch of sea salt

— METHOD

- 1 Stir the whey and maple through the yogurt until smooth.
- 2 Spread over a lined tray to about 1cm thick.
- 3 Drizzle with melted chocolate and scatter over berries, nuts and salt.
- 4 Freeze for 2 hours, then break into shards.

MEAL PREP TIP

Store the shards in the freezer and eat straight from frozen.

STORAGE

2 months frozen in an airtight container.

SWAPS

Any berries · granola for crunch
· dairy-free yogurt.

- 1 tbsp oat flour
- 1 tbsp cocoa powder
- 1 egg
- 3 tbsp milk
- ½ tsp baking powder
- 1 tbsp maple syrup
- 10g dark chocolate, for the middle

METHOD

- 1 Whisk everything except the chocolate square in a large mug until smooth.
- 2 Push the square of chocolate into the centre of the batter.
- 3 Microwave on full power for 60–80 seconds until risen and just set.
- 4 Let it stand for 1 minute — it keeps cooking — then eat straight from the mug.

MEAL PREP TIP

Don't overcook it — 70 seconds usually nails the gooey centre.

STORAGE

Best fresh and warm; make to order in two minutes.

SWAPS

Vanilla whey + berries · ground almonds for oat flour · dairy-free milk.

- 30g vanilla whey (1 scoop)
- 150g 0% Greek yogurt ($\frac{2}{3}$ cup)
- 200ml milk ($\frac{3}{4}$ cup)
- 1 tsp honey
- Handful of ice

— METHOD

- 1 Add the berries, whey, yogurt and milk to a blender.
- 2 Blend on high until completely smooth.
- 3 Add ice and blend again for a thicker, colder finish.
- 4 Pour into a tall glass and drink straight away.

MEAL PREP TIP

Frozen berries keep it thick and ice-cold without watering it down.

STORAGE

Best fresh; keeps 1 day chilled — shake well before drinking.

SWAPS

Dairy-free milk & yogurt · frozen cherries · add spinach for greens.

Chocolate Banana

Tastes like a milkshake, works like a recovery drink. The one that turns protein sceptics around.
